The screenshot shows the NYT Games app interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with a hamburger menu icon on the left and a 'Subscribe to Games' button on the right. Below the navigation bar, the main content area is divided into two sections. The left section features a 5x5 grid for the Wordle game. The top row of the grid contains the letters P, A, S, T, E. The second row contains C, L, U, E, S. The remaining three rows are empty. To the right of the grid, there's a large black banner with the NYT logo at the top, followed by the text 'The app for every today.' and 'Download The New York Times app.' Below the banner, there are three smaller images: a grid of letters, a 'The Daily' app icon, and a stack of books with a robot. At the bottom of the screen, there's a keyboard with letters Q, W, E, R, T, Y, U, I, O, P visible.
